Addendum to original report

6. Background

- 6.4 Due to the changes in the regulated entertainment regime including the introduction of The Live Music Act 2012, which de-regulation live music in venues and amended the Licensing Act 2003, certain hours applied for by the applicant are exempt provided the audience does not exceed 500.

If organisers are uncertain as to the audience sizes in the area applied for, it might be easier and more flexible to secure an appropriate authorisation. A fire risk assessment would determine the maximum number of persons in a premises/ venue.

Therefore, as per plan, if the licence was granted as per the application only the following would be the licensable, assuming the audience would never exceed 500:

Supply of Alcohol (On premises)

Sunday to Thursday - 12:00 to 23:00

Performance of dance (Indoors)

Friday and Saturday – 23:00 to 23:30
