Having moved to Albrighton [redacted] years ago and seeing change in the dynamic of the village I find myself getting anxious about the idea of such a large development all at once. Whilst I appreciate homes are needed, it shouldn't be at the expense of village life surely. The green areas surrounding our village need to be preserved for future generations.... mental health, safety, amenities etc all play a big part in the growth of villages, so already we have had new builds which at a slow pace is expected, and welcomed.
